“Honoring Our Distinguished Speakers and Valued Participants”

A Tribute of Gratitude to Our Distinguished Speakers

On behalf of Scitechseries Publishing Limited (UK), we extend our deepest appreciation and profound gratitude to our esteemed keynote speakers, eminent scientists, distinguished researchers, renowned academicians, respected industry leaders, and valued delegates for your exceptional contributions to our international conferences.

Your trust in Scitechseries Publishing Limited (UK) and your dedication to advancing scientific knowledge have been the cornerstone of our continued growth as a global platform for research, innovation, and academic excellence.

We are deeply honored by the extraordinary response to the 3rd* International Conference on Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare and Industry and the 5th* International Conference on Global Entrepreneurship Summit 2026. The overwhelming participation from researchers, scholars, professionals, and innovators across the world reflects the growing impact and reputation of our conferences within the international scientific community.

As a mark of our appreciation for this exceptional global response, we are delighted to announce the extension of both conferences by an additional day, exclusively dedicated to Virtual Scientific Presentations, International Networking, and Global Research Collaboration on 21 August 2026. This initiative has been thoughtfully introduced to provide additional opportunities for researchers and professionals worldwide to showcase their work, exchange ideas, foster meaningful collaborations, and build lasting academic and industry partnerships.

Your continued confidence inspires us to uphold the highest standards of scientific integrity, academic excellence, innovation, and professional engagement. We remain committed to creating a world-class conference experience that empowers researchers, accelerates knowledge exchange, and advances global scientific progress.

Thank you for honoring us with your participation, sharing your expertise, and contributing to a truly inspiring international gathering. We look forward to welcoming you again as we continue our shared mission of advancing research, fostering innovation, and building a stronger global scientific community.

With our highest appreciation and sincere respect,
Scitechseries Publishing Limited (UK)
“Advancing Research. Inspiring Innovation. Connecting the World.”
